When you mentioned Kit Carson as a Mason, I remembered that there is a plaque at the Alamo, in memory of the Masons who died fighting there. I just found info on the Alamo website. There they listed 5.

Davy Crockett - famous frontiersman, who fought valiantly at the Alamo, and encouraged the men constantly during the battle.

Jim Bowie -- the Bowie knife was named after him. Also, he was one of the commanders of the Alamo.

William Travis -- the other commander at the Alamo

James Bonham

Almeron Dickinson

In reading about Texas Masons who fought for independence, I found that Stephen Austin was also a Mason. Austin, TX is named for him. He is called the Father of Texas.

Below is a list of all 14 Corgis playing throughout the state. A few I'm trying to track down the correct origin chapter and One is missing. A Corgi started at Medford and it is now at Everett/Marshfield. It is either Duke or Muggins. Duke or Muggins started at La Belle/Mukwonago and they are trying to track who captured it for my chart.

Please look over the information below and let me know if any is incorrect, or needs to be updated for the travels of our Corgi's. Thanks.
